VBS 2020 Christmas In July

The Associate Pastor's Corner

Pastor Jennifer Gonsalves,
Associate Pastor
Associatepastor@gracealbertlea.org

Thank you all for your support for an awesome Christmas in July themed Vacation Bible School. While our program looked very different this year, it has been great to hear from kids and parents about all the fun they had learning about Jesus and his birth.

Through Bible stories, crafts, activities, and games our kids explored the Christmas story and thought about how they, too, can share the good news of Jesus and his love. We encouraged conversation between children and their families about God and how they can work together to love their neighbors. It is our hope that this VBS helped families pray together and grew more comfortable in talking about faith with each other.

We do not yet know what our fall programming will look like. But whether it is in-person, at home or some combination of both, we at Grace are committed to providing opportunities for individuals and families of all ages to explore and grow in their faith.

For everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven – Ecclesiastes 3:1

The rest of these verses (and I invite you to go read and meditate/pray on each one) is almost everything you can think of in life. From birth to death and war and peace, these verses amplify the journey of being people of God. We needed to hear these words before COVID and we need to hear them now. There is a season and a time for everything. Lately I've been thinking of verse 5 which includes the phrase "...a time to embrace, and a time to refrain from embracing." I mostly always thought of that verse in times where we needed to take a break from people, times we needed space emotionally in our lives. But, right now, it's literal. We need to refrain from embracing now so that we can safely at a later date.

To every thing
there is a season, and time to every a purpose
under the heaven.
Ecclesiastes 3:1

I fear many of us have forgotten that scripture is our guide, and it comes before the things of this world. That doesn't mean we deny science or politics or rational thinking, but that as Bible-reading people, we would be willing to see God as our guide. Don't get me wrong, I think masks are important, not because some political party tells me so, because science (which is also part of God's world) tells me wearing one will provide safety for others and myself.

Being a follower of Jesus means that we put others first, that we protect others. Matthew 20:27-28 says "Whoever wishes to be first among you, shall be your slave. Be like the Son of Man who did not come to be served, but to serve..." It means that before we make something a political debate, let's see if it's first a human love.

We will get through this together.
We will remain a church, we are the people of God serving God in all we do.

Musings

Deacon Robert Tewes,
Director of Worship and Music
music@gracealbertlea.org

Our journey within the reality of COVID-19 continues, as we have now been able to gather again on the front lawn of the church to worship together. It's been a long four months since we've been able to gather together, and have had to rely solely upon a livestreamed worship service. Though our live streaming of worship continues for those who remain in their homes, it is good to be able to see many of your faces, albeit under the masks which we now wear when we assemble in public places. The pattern of our worship continues to be altered as well. Until further notice we are advised by health officials not to engage in public song, and to limit our gatherings to a half hour or so. And as we know, singing is one of the familiar aspects of our Lutheran worship service. So for this time we encourage you to make music however that feels right for you. A limited number of worship leading musicians will do the singing for you, at a safe distance from each other, and shielded from you with large sheets of plexiglass.

A brief reflection on music might give you a bit of consolation in this time when so much feels lost to our communal gatherings. Music is composed of two primary elements: melody and rhythm. The succession of pitches, whether stepwise and sequential notes, or through leaps or repetition, shape the contour of a melody. Rhythm is the heartbeat, or the organizing attribute that determines when the pitches sound in time, or even when they are silent and are not sounding at all. Melody combined with rhythm makes music come alive. So in this time when we are limited from making melody together, we can still engage in the process of music making, by thoroughly embracing the second element of music, the rhythm of our songs. Some will participate by quietly humming with closed lips. Some will tap their fingers on their knees. Some will clap their hands and stomp their feet, or feel rhythm in the tapping of a toe.

Our songs, like those of the Israelites held captive by the Babylonians in biblical times, are being altered. Like the Israelites we cry out, "How can we sing when our hearts are so full of sorrow? How can we sing the Lord's song in a foreign land?"

The COVID landscape is different, for sure; a very foreign land in which nothing feels comfortable or normal. "How can we sing when we are to be silent?"

But though our songs are quieter now, do not give up the songs in your heart. Feel the presence of God within the silences of your lives. Hear the songs in your memories, and in your imaginations. Hear the songs of creation continuing to be sung by birds and other creatures around us. Engage heartily in the rhythm of music. Feel each beat resonate with each heartbeat that reminds us that we are, still, very much alive. With each breath that we take, feel the breath of the Spirit refreshing and renewing our souls. Dream with me, about that day in the not too distant future, when singing bans will be lifted, and we will join in rousing songs of joy, with melodies included, once again!

God's blessings to you and your family,
Deacon Robert Tewes

Grace Children, Youth and Family Ministry

Youth Director

July has been a busy month around the Grace Office! We had 55+ youth participate in our at home Vacation Bible School this month! This month our children focused on Christmas in July with children receiving a “new present” each Monday! These kits included materials and lessons for Bible fun, an outdoor activity, craft and family discussion that could be completed throughout the week. We are so thankful for all the positive feedback, and a special thank you to Steve Schulz and Homestead Design for designing some of our crafts this year.

During the week of July 12th, Ashley took four youth on a week-long canoeing trip in central Wisconsin (through Camp Amnicon). We canoed 30 miles down the Flambeau River, laughed a lot, spent time in God’s creation, did not shower, had Bible studies around the campfire, slept in hammocks and built community with one another. It was a wonderful week away from technology and to live in the moment, rather than on our screens. Thank you to everyone that helped us raise money for this opportunity to go on this trip.

We plan to celebrate our seniors on August 2nd with a Baccalaureate service during worship. This will include recognizing all our seniors at Grace Lutheran. Although we know not everyone is able to be present, we invite families to watch our live stream. Grace Lutheran wishes upon our seniors the best as you continue life endeavors!

This month, Pastor Jennifer and Ashley are actively working on figuring out what our fall programming will look like. Confirmation and Sunday School will happen. We are following the Albert Lea area schools and MN Health Department guidelines as we prepare these programs to allow safe practices. This month families of those currently in Confirmation or entering 7th grade will be contacted regarding registration and information for Confirmation. If you are unsure if you are on our mailing list or are new to Grace, please contact Ashley Kuhlman at youth@gracealbertlea.org to receive information about Confirmation.

First Communion Class will continue to be postponed. Families will be contacted when we are able to gather again for this class.

Parish Nurse Notes

Lori Tuchtenhagen,
Parish Nurse
parishnurse@gracealbertlea.org

Greetings friends of Grace Lutheran,

Although most people love the warmth and light of the sun, too much sun exposure can significantly damage human skin. The sun's heat dries out areas of unprotected skin and depletes the skin's supply of natural lubrication oils. In addition, the sun's ultraviolet radiation can cause burning and long-term changes in the skin's structure.

The hot sun of summer is a temptation for all of us, but as with most things, moderation is the key! Here are 5 steps to safer tanning:

- 1) Avoid the sun between 10am and 4pm when the sun's rays are the strongest. Don't be fooled by the cloudy skies. Clouds block only 20% of UV or ultraviolet radiation.

- 2) Use sunscreen/sunblock products. These lotions, creams, ointments, or gels absorb, reflect, or scatter some or all of the sun's rays.
- 3) Wear a hat.
- 4) Wear sunglasses to protect your eyes.
- 5) Cover up. Wear lightweight, loose-fitting, long-sleeved shirts, pants, or long skirts when in the sun.

- 6) Avoid indoor tanning. Tanning beds and sun lamps use special lightbulbs that speed up tanning, but also deliver harmful UV rays, increasing your risk for skin damage and cancer.

The more of these practices you can incorporate into your life, the greater your chance of reducing sun damage, unfavorable skin discoloration, early wrinkles, damage, and disease and skin cancers. If you spot a suspicious mark on your skin, be sure to get it checked out by your physician or dermatologist.

May you continue to safely enjoy the summer sun!
God's Blessings,
Lori Tuchtenhagen,
Parish Nurse

Psalm 113:3

From the rising of the sun to its setting, the name of the Lord is to be praised.

LEARNING — AND LAUGHING — ON THE FLY

Faced with the sudden move to livestreamed church services, many pastors and worship leaders had to learn new technology quickly during the pandemic. As they were “winging it,” bloopers and bobbles added levity to the tense time.

For instance, a fake tree fell on a drummer while a worship song was being broadcast from Georgia. After getting too close to a candle, a vicar in England had to pause to extinguish flames from his sweater. And several preachers appeared on screen with cartoon-like features after inadvertently turning on social media filters.

“This wasn’t planned,” wrote the pastor about the falling ficus, which didn’t cause injury but quickly went viral. “But God used it to bring laughter to the hearts of many. For that, we are thankful.”

CREATION CARE CORNER

Many people have used the change of pace during COVID disruptions to do projects they had previously put off, including decluttering. Has your stuff accumulated to the point that it's diminishing your happiness? Is it sapping too much of your physical and mental energy and getting in the way of your relationships? Reclaiming your space from clutter is not just a physical task, but a spiritual exercise.

June Saruwatari, author of the book "Behind the Clutter" recommends that her clients look at their possessions and determine if they serve four basic concepts: truth, love, meaning and purpose. Her accompanying questions to ask yourself are, "Do you honestly need this item? Do you love it? Does it have some sort of significance in your life? Does it serve a purpose?"

In Ruth Soukup's book "Unstuffed: Decluttering Your Home, Mind and Soul," she recommends following a four-step process with the acronym FREE.

F = Fight to Stop the Flow. Buy only what you need.

R = Reduce by Ruthlessly Purging. Methodically go through your items room-by-room and ask, "Do I really use this? Does it work? Do I really like it and want it?"

E = Establish Strict Limits. If you buy something new, get rid of something else.

E = Emphasize Quality over Quantity. Higher quality items will last longer and retain their value.

Watching an episode of a show like "Hoarders" can also provide a burst of inspiration for a quick round of decluttering.

"Now there is great gain in godliness with contentment, for we brought nothing into the world, and we cannot take anything out of the world. But if we have food and clothing, with these we will be content."

1 Timothy 6:6-8

When you picture an ideal room, how full of stuff is it?

QUARTERS FOR WORLD HUNGER

On June 30th, the Minneapolis Star Tribune reported another warning from the United Nations World Food Program that the pandemic has caused global hunger to rise to record numbers. The number of hungry people in the 83 countries where it operates could increase to 270 million by the end of 2020 – an 82% increase from before COVID-19 took hold. Because we are not able to worship in our church building, we are not able to drop “quarters for World Hunger” in the offering plate each week. When you send your offering to church, perhaps you could include something for ELCA World Hunger. We need to keep supporting this program as hunger increases around the world. Thank you for your support.
