COOP'S CORNER

I came across the following and found it so interesting that I wanted to share some of it with you, especially when we hear all the crazy rhetoric that has been coming from both sides of the aisle. It is by William Falk, editor-in-chief of one of my favorite magazines, The Week.

Ours is a country founded on hope. But Americans seem to be increasingly defined by what we fear.

Which frightens you more: Islamic terrorism, or anti-Islamic bigotry? Too much surveillance, or too little? Climate change, or intrusive government regulation? Angry white men with weapons, or government confiscation of all guns? Racist cops, or lawlessness? The hijacking of the democratic process by corporations and billionaires, or a creeping socialism that promises nearly everyone a lifetime of government benefits?

If you believe what you read on the internet or hear in presidential debates you're likely to conclude that THE END IS NEAR!

Now, fear can be useful: Evolution wired our brains to respond to perceived threats with a powerful "flight or fight" response – making adrenaline pour into our veins, our hearts race, our fists clench. Spend too much time in that state, however, and you become neurotic, paranoid – a little unhinged.

But it's not all bad. Let's all lighten up. A fresh new year beckons. The sky is not falling.

That isn't bad advice. Indeed, the sky isn't falling, however, that doesn't mean we can just look the other way when we see those things that go against what we believe.

I recently received an Advent letter from the California Council of Churches. It talked about Hans Christian Anderson's story, The Little Match Girl, who is left to watch families celebrate Christmas in warm homes but then abandons herself to freeze to death in a dark doorway.

They write that this girl symbolizes our society's often callous disregard for even our most fragile people And I would agree.

I would hope that we would never let a child freeze or suffer in that or any way. That isn't a political issue, it is a spiritual issue, as is climate change, racism, poverty, and even immigration.

The California Council of Churches went on to ask an interesting question: While we certainly wouldn't want a little girl to freeze to death out in the cold, what if we weren't talking about a little girl, freezing in the doorway? What if she were a homeless drug addict? An immigrant? An ex-con? A prostitute? A veteran with mental health problems? A tattooed white supremacist?

Would any of those people change how you would respond to the heartbreak of the Little Match Girl story? Are any of these people outside the teachings that we embrace from the adult Jesus and all he taught us?

Every person we pass by in fear or indignation or disregard is a person we have left out of our human family. We don't have to take them into our homes, but can we afford to leave them out of our hearts and actions on their behalf?

I hope in this NEW YEAR that we all replace fear with love; that we replace judgment and condemnation with grace and peace; that we replace apathy with action.

May we all remember that God came in love, to show love, to be love, and invites us to do the same.

Be blessed, my friends!!!

Pastor Tom

CHURCH AND WORLD MINISTRY

Alternative Christmas

I would like to thank all of you who participated in our Alternative Christmas opportunity in December. As of December 28th, we collected $280 for Heifer International, $560 for the Cameroon Women's Association, and $520 for the Women's Gathering Place in downtown San Jose. I will be sending checks to each of the organizations in January.

HOPE

I want to thank the members of HOPE as well as others in the congregation for their willingness to buy gifts for the children of the Hispanic church (Comunidad Latinoamericana). Pastor Tom was able to attend their childrens' service and delivered all of the packages. As you can see from some of the pictures, the children were pleased with their gifts. Thanks so much for spreading Joy!

Cathy Warrick, team member

The Church and World Missions Committee will be meeting in January to start planning for a Faith In Action Weekend this Spring. If you have any projects you would like the committee to consider, please contact Yvonne Miller in person or via email at napiligal@sbcglobal.net

"A Voice Heard in the Wilderness"

Children's Christmas Play written by Carol Miller

I hope everyone's holidays were filled with joy and lots of fun with families and friends. The highlight of December was the Sunday School children's and Youth's Christmas Play on December 13. The kids did a great job performing the play which was entitled, "A Voice from the Wilderness", written by Carol Miller. Rogan Souter and Owen Paterson (not shown in the pics) did a great job as narrators. Thanks also to all the teachers and parents for helping out with the play.

In January, we are continuing with our curriculum, 'We Believe'. The kids will learn about key parables and teachings of Jesus. I would like to extend a fond welcome to Mindy Gerber who is going to join our Sunday School teaching team and to Gertrud Walker for taking on the job of lead teacher. If you would like to help out with Sunday School or the Nursery please contact Cheryl Elliot.

Community Christmas Dinner

Saturday • December 12, 2015

Thank you to our church family for helping to make our Deacons' ninth annual Community Christmas Dinner a success! A delicious feast, gifts, craft projects, and even Santa Claus stopped by giving our neighbors an enjoyable afternoon to celebrate Christmas with family and friends.

PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN

On Tuesday evening December 15 we had our annual PW Christmas party at Barb Overholt's house. We had great attendance (11 of us!) and we revealed our Secret Sisters. We also did a cookie exchange so we all went home with a plate filled with numerous types of delicious cookies.

If you would like to participate in our PW Secret Sister program for 2016, please fill out the info form. (They are on courtyard info table, or see Cheryl Elliot). The forms should be turned into Cheryl Elliot by January 10th. The program encourages us to support our Secret Sister via prayer throughout the year and occasionally give them small gifts on special occasions.

PW had a successful Nut Sales fundraiser to support projects at our church as well as some local mission projects. We sold a little over 400 pounds of nuts yielding a profit just over $500. We will make final choice of where the funds will be allocated to at our January meeting, which is going to be SATURDAY, Jan 23rd from 10 AM - noon. At this meeting, we will continue our "Come to the Waters' bible study. We are on lesson #4 which deals with 'Dangerous Waters- God's Deliverance'. Cheryl Elliot will be in charge of snacks.

Secret Sisters Revealing Party and Cookie Exchange
Tuesday • December 15

*The Cookie Exchange Table
filled with mouth-watering,

What a great time we had in fellowship, revealing ourselves to our secret sister, and exchanging cookies from our kitchens at Barb Overholt's home. Parker, the Overholt's pet, was very sociable and the women kindly left their tissue paper behind for him to romp in; thank you friends for a very fun evening!

Missing secret sisters:

Laura Davis, Karla Frye, Karin McMinn, Edith Sona

Thinking of becoming a Secret Sister?

It's a wonderful program involving the gift of love, support and encouragement to our sisters in Christ through prayer in good times and in bad with cards, flowers and possibly even a gift (we let our imaginations lead us). Become a Secret Sister in 2016 and join in the fun fellowship. Secret Sister forms are available through Cheryl Elliot.

Thanks to all the people who brought snacks and helped clean up in November and December. Our church wouldn't be the same friendly, welcoming place without you!
